CONTENTS

After Cosby/After the L.A. rebellion: The politicis of transnational identities after the cold war	The Editors	1
White racism and THE COSBY SHOW	Mike Budd and Clay Steinman	5
SALVADOR and Noreiga (Oliver Stone, 1936)	John Caldwell	15
(Mis)representing child labor: SALAAM BOMBAY! (Mira Nair, 1988)	Jyotika Virdi	29
Blood in the square: representations of democracy in China	Scott Nygren	37
U.S. movies in China	Peter Scheckner	44
Third world television in the United States	Blanche S. Chang	50
The color of paradise: COME SEE THE PARADISE (Alan Parker, 1990)	Robert Payne	51
Release from emotional internment: FAMILY GATHERING (Lise Yasui, Ann Tegnell, 1988)	Cassandra Van Buren	56
PBS and AIDS: AIDS: CHAPTER ONE (Thea Chalow, 1985)	Ron Gregg	64
Truth or "realness": TRUTH OR DARE (Alex Kirschnian, 1991) and PARIS IS BURNING (Jenny Livingston, 1991)	Jack Waters	72
NY experimental gay and lesbian film festival	Edith Becker	74
Lesbian viewing and perversity	Jennifer Montgomery	74
Super 8 films and the aesthetics of intimacy	Daryl Chin	78
Scouting WILD LIFE (John Goss, 1985)	Gabriel Gomez	82
Dorothy Arzner's trouser	Jane Gaines	88
Video sales and rentals: a resource guide	Tony Williams	99
Radical exhibition practices in the 30s	Brad Chisholm	110
Opera chorus singers: IN THE SHADOW OF THE STARS (Allie Light and Irving Saraf, 1991)	Sara Halprin	122
Mothers, madness and melodrama	Gretchen Bisplinghoff	120